GRATITUDE TO COACH JOE GIBBS – OUR FOUNDER

The genesis of Youth For Tomorrow began within the soul of our Founder, the incomparable Coach Joe Gibbs. In the early 1980's. Coach Gibbs harkened to the calling from the Lord in Matthew 19:14 – “Let the little children come to Me”.

Under Coach Gibbs’ stellar spiritual and inspiring personal leadership, Youth For Tomorrow continues to serve the “children” the Lord directs to our doorsteps.

Coach tells us that our 38-year history of service has been possible as a result of thousands of you who have answered his call, and the call from the Lord to step up and come forward to serve the Lord’s children. Coach has been able to nurture YFT from its humble, but fledging beginnings – serving 4 boys in 1986 in one home -- to now having served more than 8,330 teenage boys and girls in our 13 homes on our 110-acre campus.

In addition, our 7 Outpatient Behavioral Health regional offices have served over 36,300 children and adults ages 4 – 84 located in 4 Northern Virginia counties – Prince William, Fauquier, Loudoun & Fairfax.

YFT has voluntarily sought and achieved three national accreditations while providing highly acclaimed mental health, special education and residential services to those who seek professional interventions to re-direct the lives of family members whose lives are in crisis.

HOW DID WE GET HERE, YOU MAY ASK? Coach Gibbs “teamed up” with notable businessmen who became our corporate sponsors – most notable were William A. Hazel, Inc.

Of course, YFT Co-Founder, Bill Hazel, was a pronounced leader in all we did in those days and his indelible imprint is ever present with the continued timely and generous support from the W.A. Hazel Corporation and Bill and Eleanor’s children who remain “mainstays” in all matters related to Youth For Tomorrow.

Now – with 800 boys and girls we serve annually – girls came in 2003, and the children and families whose lives are in crisis when they come to our regional offices, we graciously and gratefully welcome all of you to the Country Fair and Auctions – the premiere “Family Fall Festival in Northern Virginia.

All funds raised go directly to support the boys and girls residing in our 13 homes and children and families receiving our outpatient behavioral health services.

We are most grateful to; TOYOTA for being our Presenting Sponsor again this year; Trustees Ken Shepherd and Tom Shumaker serving as the event Co-Chairs; our more than 100 sponsors and individual donors; the corps of amazing, dedicated, tireless volunteers; and our staff who collectively volunteer hundreds of hours to prepare for this event.

My deepest thanks and many blessings to our Founder and Board Chairman, Coach Joe Gibbs and to all of you who are “making a difference” in the lives of hundreds of YFT children every year!

THANK YOU, COACH GIBBS!!!

★7★ Sponsor the Home for the Holidays

Our wish for this upcoming Holiday Season is for every child residing at YFT, and the hundreds of children we serve through our Behavioral Health Services and other community-based programs, to experience the magic of Christmas. Many of our children are from unstable families, or their family is struggling financially to just to meet the most basic needs. This is a chance to be Santa and help to ensure every child who we serve will have a Christmas morning that they will never forget!

In addition, our therapists in our community-based programs identify children and families they work with who are in need of food assistance to provide a holiday meal for Thanksgiving and for Christmas. Last year, with the support of our donors, YFT provided holiday meals to over 800 families in our communities.

We continue to grow and serve more children, and the requests for our Angel Tree and Feeding Families assistance for the Holidays continues to increase.

Big thanks to Redskins Alum, Dexter Manley!

We see a greener future for our youth.

VIRGINIA HAS THE POWER TO REINFORCE AMERICA'S NATIONAL SECURITY AND HELP CREATE A MORE CARBON-FREE WORLD WITH GREEN ENERGY.

Loudoun County processes over 70% of all internet data in the world and consumes about 22% of Virginia's electricity. And most know that real estate for data centers is maxed out in the area. Exponentially growing demand is intense with AI, Crypto, and America's cat video storage. Right?

Great news! Green Energy Partners, based in Middleburg, Virginia, and our engineers and energy experts, have been working on innovative ways to deliver scalable carbon-free electricity and hydrogen fuel that can power our country's growing demands. Our first location we call Surry Green Energy Center.

Our model concept has been to qualify suitable diverse real estate locations, like the 600 acres that was recently approved and rezoned in Surry County, right next door to Dominion's Surry Nuclear Power Station.

Our plan is to situate Data Centers, powered by on-site safe Small Modular Reactors (SMRs), with proven technology used on aircraft carriers and submarines since 1952. SMRs can also facilitate the conversion of high-temperature steam into hydrogen fuel for power backup generators on-site. Importantly, the Surry Green Energy Center need not wait while ample SMR power generation is available immediately, given the site is within the PJM transmission network with contiguous proximity to the Dominion Surry Nuclear Power station. Further, the entire Surry tri-location facility has been approved and zoned for Data Centers, SMRs and Hydrogen production. Additionally, the site will be screened by natural buffers, protecting the community's way of life and wildlife.

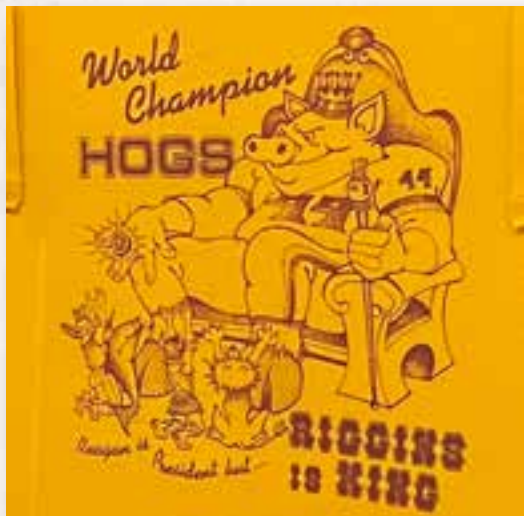

We support the many ways America generates electricity and simply want to help accelerate more fossil-free electricity for a greener world and more independent scalable power, as we reinforce our national security. This visionary approach will, no doubt, deliver a healthier and safer world for our children and their children. Find out more at water2.energy

★28★ U.S. Colt Model 1860 Army Revolver

Among Union forces, the Colt Model 1860 was the most commonly used revolver of the Civil War. This design was manufactured from 1860 through 1873, with over 200,000 produced. Of these, 127,156 were purchased by the U.S. government.

This well-known six-shot, single-action revolver has an eight-inch round barrel rifled with seven grooves. Some scarce early specimens, usually with fluted cylinders, have 7 1/2-inch barrels. Total length is 14 inches, weight is two pounds 11 ounces, and cylinder length is 1-13/16 inches. This revolver has a naval engagement scene on its cylinder like the 1851 and 1861 .36 caliber models. It has a brass blade front sight and the rear sight is a notch cut in the hammer lip. It has a semi-oval brass trigger guard and iron backstrap. Recoil shield and butt of the military revolvers are notched for a detachable carbine stock, although very few were issued with one.

These revolvers vary in such details as a four-screw frame model and a three-screw frame model, but this general description is typical of this revolver "as issued" for Civil War use. Stock was walnut, oil-finished and stamped with inspectors' initials, such as "ADK" in military revolvers. The top of the barrel is stamped "ADDRESS COL. SAML COLT NEW-YORK U. S. AMERICA--"

Ever thought about a trip to Africa? Now is the time to take it. We just returned from South Africa after spending 6 nights at the Zulu Nyala lodge. It was an absolutely wonderful experience. We saw, up close, elegant giraffes, elephants, beautiful zebras, and many other wild animals. A guide drove us in a comfortable covered jeep for two safaris a day - two hours early in the morning and two hours later in the afternoon. Our bedroom was large with a patio and a very nice bathroom...no camping! We had three delicious meals each day. The entire staff was kind and very helpful. This is a great way to experience Africa! -YFT Trustee, Barbara Lewis
